THE ART OF LAYERING

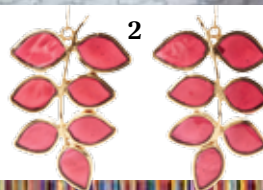

CATHY
Austin

Known for her curated and colorful style that blends her extensive travels along with her love of art with a thoughtful approach to design, Cathy Austin of Catherine M. Austin Interior Design brings the world to her clients' doorsteps with a constant stream of fresh ideas and original finds.

"When I work with clients, they are not just hiring an interior designer; they are gaining access to global design currents," Austin says. "Sharing my education of art and design history, as well as connecting clients with artists and artisans are two of the most fulfilling roles of my profession. I love to keep my pulse on the constantly changing art and design worlds from finding up and coming artists at art fairs in Miami to rug makers using ancient techniques in the Atlas Mountains of Morocco," she says. "These experiences translate into an exclusive level of luxury through providing bespoke goods, handmade materials, and sources that are still undiscovered by the mainstream."
