FRESH FERN

TURNING OVER A NEW LEAF IN STYLE.

PRODUCED BY ASHLEY HOTHAM COX
WRITTEN BY CHRISTINA SPRATT SPENCER

The spa-like serenity of this nearly-a-neutral hue tethers a tranquil tie to nature. A relaxingly restorative balance of lush and lively, this soothing tone evokes a nurturing calmness and a renewing retreat for the senses. Verdantly variant and versatile in its array of leaflike undertones from sophisticatedly soft and silvery to rich foliage of pistachio, olive notes, and even hinted highlights of chartreuse, it harmoniously pairs with a range of greens from mint to juniper. Becoming a breezy breath with atmospheric blues and classically collected with creamy ivory and cotton with contrasts of warm greige and deep charcoal, fern green maintains a centered composure while, across the color wheel, a pop of persimmon or blush or an analogous tinge of ochre sings like springtime.

The Kipling Suite at Brown's Hotel in London features hand-painted Lewis & Wood wallpaper.
